Brad Dunn focuses his practice on complex business litigation and commercial transaction representation, including representing clients in contract disputes, insurance coverage disputes, product liability, tort defense litigation, and mergers and acquisitions. Brad also regularly serves as outside general counsel for many of his clients.

He also defends Fortune 500 companies, debt buyers, debt collection agencies, law firms, lending institutions, and others in class action lawsuits involving claims brought under various state and federal consumer laws, including the Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA), Fair Debt Collection Practices Act (FDCPA), and the Telephone Consumer Protection Act (TCPA).

Brad has extensive bankruptcy, and reorganization experience focused on assisting clients (both debtors and creditors) with solving problems related to insolvency and potential insolvency situations.

Prior to joining Hinshaw in 2014, Brad practiced law at several Phoenix area law firms. He also spent two years as a law clerk in-house with a U.S. developer, manufacturer, and distributor of self-defense products.

During law school, Brad volunteered as a tax preparer with the IRS's Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) grant program and was a student attorney with the Innovation Advancement Clinic. While earning an M.B.A., Brad was a member of the Beta Gamma Sigma honor society, and during his undergraduate studies participated in the study abroad program at the University of Urbino in central Italy.

Prior to his legal career, Brad was a senior financial analyst for a global aerospace corporation.
