Sarah E. King counsels financial services companies on compliance with statutes and regulations. She also represents companies facing inquiries, requests for information, civil investigative demands, subpoenas, supervisory examinations, and lawsuits brought by government entities. Leveraging her wide-ranging experience, Sarah also advises clients on managing and mitigating risk, helping them navigate issues concerning federal and state regulatory requirements.

Regulatory Investigation and Enforcement

In addition to defending companies under investigation by government entities like state attorneys general, the Federal Trade Commission (FTC), and the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB) regulators, Sarah also has extensive experience resolving complex disputes with governmental agencies such as the Illinois Commerce Commission (ICC), the Illinois Department of Public Health (IDPH), and the Illinois Department of Financial and Professional Regulation (IDFPR). Her experience includes resolution through litigation or negotiated settlements of unfair and deceptive trade practice cases.

Civil Litigation

Sarah defends companies against violation allegations of the Fair Debt Collection Practices Act (FDCPA) and Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA). She also handles pre-suit negotiations in cases involving price gouging, public health negligence, public nuisance, fraud, and workplace discrimination.

Compliance Counseling

Sarah helps her clients identify and manage risk by providing counsel on a variety of intersecting consumer protection laws and regulations, including:

- Fair Debt Collection Practices Act (FDCPA)
- Illinois Consumer Fraud and Deceptive Business Practices Act (IL CFA)
- Licensing and marketing requirements for alternative retail energy suppliers
- Telemarketing Sales Rule (TSR)
- Illinois Anti-Predatory Lending Database (APLD)
- Predatory Loan Prevention Act (PLPA)
- Illinois Consumer Installment Act (CILA)
- Pennsylvania Unfair Trade Practices and Consumer Protection Law
