Experience

Represented a corporation in a Chapter 11 bankruptcy matter.

Hodgson Russ represented the principal secured creditor of a major hotel that, following initiation of foreclosure proceedings, filed proceedings under Chapter 11. Following a lengthy trial, the firm succeeded in obtaining dismissal of the Chapter 11 proceeding and a foreclosure sale of the premises.

Represented a hospital in its capacity as a DIP lender in connection with a Chapter 11 case.

Hodgson Russ represented a full-service hospital as a debtor in possession in Chapter 11 proceedings. Following numerous hearings before the bankruptcy court, Hodgson Russ succeeded in confirming a plan for reorganization that provided a substantial distribution to creditors.

Receiver in a civil enforcement action brought by the Federal Trade Commission and the New York State Attorney General.

Counsel to Chapter 11 and Chapter 7 trustees in various bankruptcy matters.

Hodgson Russ represents a holding company that owns property which is filing for a Chapter 11 bankruptcy. The owners have asked the bankruptcy court to dismiss the Chapter 11 case to allow for a sale. A dismissal of the case would speed up a $9.6 million sale to potentially make way for the construction of a $50 million hotel.

Hodgson Russ represented the debtor in connection with the Chapter 11 proceedings of a national transporter of automobiles, for which it procured an order under section 1113 modifying its collective bargaining agreement.

Hodgson Russ has helped several companies successfully reorganize and recapitalize so that proprietary technology can be preserved and commercially developed. One of these companies makes a fashionable floatation garment that inflates only when exposed to water, another had proprietary chemical adhesives, and another had patents for nanotechnology.

Hodgson Russ represented the Chapter 11 trustee of a large office building in Buffalo, New York. The work performed by Hodgson Russ included litigation to avoid a multimillion-dollar mortgage on the premises, the termination of numerous leases, and the sale of the building following two rounds of bidding under section 363 of the Bankruptcy Code.

Hodgson Russ advised a client on all the legal aspects of the winding down of operations of a paper mill. Our work included the unwinding of the industrial development agency benefits, negotiation of sale contracts, and the related real estate dispositions, including timberlands, real estate tax matters related to the project, and related applications to the state agency in charge of long-range planning.

Hodgson Russ represented the largest creditor of the Chapter 11 proceedings of a commercial mortgage defeasance company. Our attorneys succeeded in causing the appointment of a Chapter 11 trustee, with whom our client has settled its claim.

Several Hodgson Russ attorneys provided U.S. securities counsel to a Canadian energy company in the sale of its finance affiliate. The $359 million USD deal resulted in the energy company's emergence from bankruptcy.

Attorneys from Hodgson Russ acted as Chapter 11 bankruptcy counsel to a meat distribution company in its Chapter 11 bankruptcy proceedings. At the time of its filing, the company was one of the largest family-owned meat distribution companies in the country, with yearly revenues in excess of $900 million.

Represented partner in a U.S. consumer products business in connection with the exit of the equal partner.

Hodgson Russ represented the owner of the real estate on which a popular New York ski resort is located in a successful Chapter 11 proceeding. Our attorneys defeated efforts by the bank mortgage lenders to liquidate the property, negotiated a new lease with a new operator, and confirmed a reorganization plan which allowed the ski resort to open in time for what has turned out to be one of their most successful ski seasons ever.

Turned what began as a commercial eviction proceeding into two real estate deals in which the manufacturing client purchased the buildings that were the subject of the eviction proceedings.
