Associate

mplewinski@hodgsonruss.com 585.454.0797

An associate in our Business Litigation Practice, Molly assists clients in numerous civil and business litigation matters including higher education, labor law disputes, and breach of contract matters. She is known for her accomplished legal research, writing skills, and close attention to detail, all of which enable her to excel in the litigation environment.

Molly graduated in the top 5% of her class from the University at Buffalo School of Law. While in law school, she served as a judicial intern to the Honorable Julio Fuentes of the United States Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit. Molly previously worked as a summer associate at Ward Greenberg and clerked for in-house counsel at National Fuel Gas Company.
