

REOPENING SCHOOLS: LEGAL ISSUES INVOLVING STUDENTS AND STAFF

Webinars

August 13, 2020

August 13, 2020

RECORDING FOR THIS EVENT IS NOW AVAILABLE HERE.

Join attorneys in the Hodgson Russ Education Practice as they review the practical implications of reopening schools this fall.

Topics to be discussed:

- How schools can mitigate liability upon return to instruction;
- Required provision of educational services and considering parental requests for remote instruction;
- Navigating complex personnel issues, including state and federal leave laws and accommodation requests;
- Steps to follow if a positive case or exposure to someone with COVID-19 is identified.

August 13, 2020

12:00 p.m. – 1:00 p.m.

Speakers: Ryan Everhart, Andrew Freedman, Elizabeth McPhail, Lindsay Menasco and Jeffrey Swiatek

Who should attend: Board of Education Members, Superintendents, Business Officials, School District Administrators and other school district staff

If you have any related questions you'd like to send the presenters to address during the session, please email them to info@hodgsonruss.com.

Click here to register.

Please check our Coronavirus Resource Center to view updates we have published on topics related to the pandemic.

Attorneys

Ryan Everhart

Andrew Freedman

Elizabeth McPhail

Lindsay Menasco

Jeffrey Swiatek

Practices & Industries

Education

Special Education