

REPRESENTED RETAILER IN SUBMISSION OF CYBER INSURANCE CLAIM, DEMAND FOR INDEMNIFICATION

Three former employees of a retailer exploited a flaw in payment software designed to prevent duplicate charges. The value of the loss exceeded $1 million. Hodgson Russ represents the retailer in the submission of its cyber insurance claim and its demand for indemnification from the software installer.

Practices & Industries

Cybersecurity & Privacy