

HODGSON RUSS ATTORNEY CHARLES S. RAUCH ADMITTED TO NYS BAR

August 3, 2011

Hodgson Russ announces that Charles S. Rauch has been admitted to the New York State Bar. He is also admitted to practice in Massachusetts and before the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office.

Mr. Rauch concentrates his practice in intellectual property law, with a particular focus on patent and trademark matters. His experience prior to joining Hodgson Russ includes working as a legal intern in the Federal Communications Commission's Office of Strategic Planning and Policy Analysis and the U.S. District Court for the District of New Hampshire. Before attending law school, Mr. Rauch worked on electrical and mechanical engineering projects during internships with IBM and an engineering and environmental consulting firm. He is a member of the American Intellectual Property Law Association.

Hodgson Russ attorneys facilitate the U.S. legal aspects of transactions around the world. Our attorneys practice in virtually every substantive area of law and generally use multidisciplinary work teams to serve the specific, often complex, needs of clients, which include public and privately held businesses, governmental entities, nonprofit institutions, and individuals. Hodgson Russ has offices in New York City, Albany, Buffalo, and Johnstown, New York; Palm Beach, Florida; and Toronto, Ontario.

Attorneys

Charles Rauch

