

GARRY M. GRABER INTERVIEWED ABOUT INVOLUNTARY BANKRUPTCY FOR LANDMARK

June 3, 2009

Garry M. Graber, a partner in the Hodgson Russ LLP Bankruptcy, Restructuring & Commercial Litigation Practice Group, has been quoted in reports from several media outlets on the involuntary bankruptcy proceedings involving the Statler Towers, a historic landmark in downtown Buffalo, New York.

Mr. Graber was interviewed on his representation of the tenant in this case by YNN Buffalo (the Time Warner Cable news channel) on May 30 and by WGRZ-TV Channel 2 on April 14. He was also quoted in "Later Date for Auction Buys Time for Statler," Buffalo Business First, July 3, 2009; "Stakes High for Statler as Court Preps for Auction," Buffalo Business First, June 26; "Judge Sets Statler Auction," Buffalo Business First, June 3; "Statler Towers Could Be Sold at Auction," Buffalo News, May 30; "Statler Towers Owner Fined $250 a Day Until Check Is Returned," Buffalo News, April 7; and "Involuntary Bankruptcy Near for Statler," Buffalo Business First, April 3.

Practices & Industries

Bankruptcy, Restructuring &
Commercial Litigation