

CRAIG FISCHER, LAURA GROSCHADL, AND SETH PULLEN JOIN HODGSON RUSS

Press Release

November 18, 2014

Hodgson Russ announces three new associates have joined the law firm in the Buffalo office.

Craig Fischer (Corporate & Business Law and Securities Regulation & Corporate Compliance Practices) represents domestic and international clients on a variety of business transactions and general corporate issues, with a focus on securities offerings. Prior to joining Hodgson Russ, Craig was an associate at Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton LLP in its New York City office.

Laura Groschadl (Business Litigation Practice) represents business clients in a variety of litigation matters. Prior to joining Hodgson Russ, Laura was an assistant appellate court attorney at the New York State Supreme Court Appellate Division, Fourth Department.

Seth Pullen (Environment & Energy and Oil & Gas Practices) concentrates on oil and gas law. His experience also includes acquisitions of leases and wells, commercial real estate transactions, related litigation, and advising closely held businesses. Prior to joining Hodgson Russ, Seth was a partner at Biltekoff & Pullen, LLP, a boutique firm focused on business transactions, oil and gas law, commercial litigation, real estate and franchising.
