

Birth Trauma Litigation

Plunkett Cooney's attorneys are frequently called upon to defend complex and highly-emotional birth trauma cases. Defending these cases requires an experienced team.

The members of Plunkett Cooney's Birth Trauma Team include a partner, associate and nurse consultant on every case. The team also enlists the support of a broad range of top experts in obstetrics, perinatal medicine, neonatology, genetics, nursing and other medical specialties.

In birth trauma cases, Plunkett Cooney attorneys and staff make a concerted effort to treat the plaintiff with dignity and compassion while still maintaining an aggressive defense.

When matters proceed to trial, the firm's Birth Trauma Team utilizes state-of-the-art trial presentation technology to position its case for greatest impact with the jury.
