

Family Law

Nothing is more personal, precious or sensitive than litigation involving your children and spouse.

Plunkett Cooney's Family Law Practice Group offers complete representation in such sensitive matters as divorce, parenting time and child custody proceedings. This includes post judgment claims and disputes. Our attorneys handle these deeply personal matters with diplomacy and sensitivity in order to ensure our clients' emotional well-being.

In matters of divorce, our attorneys assist clients in determining fair and appropriate valuation of marital assets, equitable distribution of resources and realistic alimony payments. Whenever children are involved, our attorneys work to ensure appropriate parenting time and custody along with adequate child support payments.
